My Dear Parish Family,

I have a confession to make. I love bread – particularly warm, fresh, crusty Italian bread. It is no secret that following the 11:00 a.m. Mass, my Sunday routine includes a trip to Presti's in order to satisfy my craving. Only a portion of my purchase actually makes it home with me as the crumbs on my driver's seat will testify.

Did I mention that I love bread?

In today's Gospel from John, we hear the story of the feeding of the 5,000 by the multiplication of the loaves and fishes. As a bread-lover, I am automatically drawn into the story. The real message of this passage is not about the barley loaves that fed the people, but the actions of Jesus. Jesus perceives the needs of the people and draws upon unseen resources and power to satisfy those needs. The scriptures tell us "A large crowd followed him," because Jesus knew of their need for healing and He acted. This alone would make Him incredibly popular, but on top of that, He makes a feast out of a meager meal. The combination of His extraordinary power and uncommon generosity make the logical choice for their next king. Jesus will have none of it. The role of temporal king is only a distraction and is not His destiny. He desires to show Himself to be Lord and Savior. These signs only serve to point out that the Kingdom of God has come among them.

Jesus uses an overabundance of bread to satisfy the people's legitimate desires. This is a symbol that points to the deeper, truer meaning of how Jesus satisfies our deepest desire – to be made one with Him – through the bread we call the Eucharist. The overabundance of God's love, the very body and blood, soul and divinity of Jesus, is poured into Holy Communion which we, though unworthy, are commanded to receive.

The same Jesus that fed the 5,000 that day continuously feeds the spiritually hungry faithful with Himself in the form of the Bread of Life. The bread and wine that are processed up our main aisle and presented to the priest are transformed through the power of the Holy Spirit into the body and blood of Jesus. For my money, that is a miracle of far greater proportion than feeding thousands of people on two fish and five loaves. Beginning today, may we be more aware of our need, our hunger for the only bread that truly satisfies, the Eucharist.

Did I mention that I love the Bread of Life?

Peace of Christ,
Deacon Bruce
