Dear Parish Family,

Jesus tells us plainly today, "I am the bread of life." In Him we are fed and nourished for our pilgrimage as disciples. Of course, we properly read into this gospel passage as a reference to the Eucharist. And this Sacrament, the source and summit of the Christian life, is the center from which the whole of our lives are directed. In the Eucharist, Christ draws us to Himself and from that most intimate encounter, He sends us to accomplish the work of discipleship.

But living a Eucharistic-centered life means much, much more than simply coming to Mass on Sunday to receive the Body and Blood of our Lord. It is, however, a good and necessary start for us if we are to remain on the life-giving vine who is Jesus Christ. When we actively participate in the Sunday celebration of Mass by giving to God the whole of our lives, we can be certain that God will transform them in some way to be better disciples. So, then, what does it mean to live a Eucharistic-centered life?

First and foremost it means to live with a spirit of gratitude to God for all the blessings bestowed upon us. That is what the word Eucharist means—thanksgiving. This is what our Lord first does at the Last Supper; He gives thanks to the Father just before undergoing His passion! Are we as grateful to God, despite our own sufferings and irritations in life? Or, do we allow those sufferings to cause us to be angry with God or the Church and fail to see the blessings we have received?

Jesus also gave the Eucharist to us. It is His gift. So, to live Eucharistic-centered lives requires us to give of ourselves in loving service to building up the Kingdom of God in our midst. Are we doing this as well as we could? Are we trying to get by with giving "just enough" for God? Jesus doesn't ask any more of us than He was willing to give Himself—and He gave everything! What more can we share of our time, talent and treasure to further the growth of the Mystical Body of Christ on earth, the Church? Among the precepts of the Church is the obligation to care for the needs of the local community.

Yes, Jesus is truly the "bread of life" who feeds, nourishes and sustains us each and every day with all that we need. We never need to worry about whether the Lord will provide for us; He has proven Himself since time began. He does, however, also invite us to "follow Him" with the whole of our lives. This requires a response on our part. Whether we respond half-heartedly or whole-heartedly is up to us. But God is no fool. Let us pray that we will have the courage to respond fully to our Lord's invitation to live a Eucharistic-centered life.

In Christ,
Fr. Joe Previte
