My Dear Parish Family:

Anyone involved with the infirmed, imprisoned, and the poor have seen first hand the broken and defeated of our society. One wonders how they survive a sentence of illness, incarceration and poverty day after day. There are also those who suffer in a self-imposed prison hungering for that particular something that will renew their lives. Like Elijah, it's easy to run away and give up. Today's first reading encourages us to keep the Spirit alive. Elijah was told to rise and eat...the journey is long and our work on this earth is not yet over.

"Taste and see the goodness of the Lord"....our response for today's psalm celebrates God who listens and consoles each one of us who has or is experiencing rejection and hunger (a hunger for that particular something). We know, however, from our own personal trials that, like Elijah who was given relief from his depression, other challenges continued to enter his life. God's promise to Elijah (and to us) is that He would never abandon him.

Whatever our circumstances may be, through scripture we are given all the answers on how we are to live according to God's plan for us. Saint Paul gives us a beautiful and practical message in his letter to the Ephesians. Because of our baptism, sealed with the Holy Spirit, you and I are to be "imitators of God, as beloved children, and live in love." Saint Paul's words help us to realize that bitterness, vindictive behaviors, strong and belligerent emotions are not of God, and if not of God, such characteristics should not be part of us.

How do the infirmed, prisoners, poor, and the self-inflicted get up with a fighting spirit and continue their long journey of life? How do we know that God will never abandon us in the midst of all our trials? How do we become "imitators of God" and live in the love expressed by Saint Paul?

As we continue this week's portion of the Bread of Life discourse found in John's Gospel, the answers become clear for those who listen. In last week's Gospel, Jesus said that He is the bread of life. He repeats that again this week and adds that He is the bread of life and whoever eats this bread will live forever. Through His death and resurrection, Jesus fulfills for us the hunger that so many of us struggle to satisfy; the bread from heaven...the gift of His Body and Blood.

Elijah listened to the angel, he awakened and ate and continued his journey. When we participate at Mass and receive the gift of His very Body and Blood, we are given the nourishment needed to continue our journey to eternal life. In the Eucharist we are strengthened; whatever suffering we endure, we know that God will never abandon us. Whatever emotions we feel not of God can evolve into something good if we really believe and live imitating His love for all people.

Extraordinary ministers of the Eucharist who minister in hospitals, to the homebound, and in the jails can attest to those who anxiously wait to receive the Blessed Sacrament. They may be inflicted with a serious illness or a long jail sentence and their poverty may be overwhelming to the average person, but for many of our brothers and sisters in these circumstances, their faith grows stronger and through the nourishment received in the holy Eucharist, their lives continue to have purpose; their work on earth is not done. And they know that when God calls them home, they will live on in His glory. God the Father has promised this through His Son, Jesus Christ.

In Christ,
Anne DeMarco

In celebrating this month of Our Lady's final journey to God in her glorious Assumption, let us ask her motherly intercession to draw souls to the Sacred Heart of her Son. The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is also a journey of conversion to God and what He intends for us. RCIA is the process by which persons who were never baptized, were baptized in another Christian tradition, or baptized Catholic and never completed the initiation process by receiving the sacraments of Holy Eucharist and Confirmation, become members of the Church, a people on pilgrimage to our Heavenly Father. Formal sessions will begin on Tuesday, September 8, 2015, at Holy Rosary Parish.
