Holy Rosary will soon begin a new journey in faith to share the richness of the Catholic Church and our parish family. We invite you to learn what the Church teaches, and be introduced to some of our parish members. These also are opportunities for you, and others that you may wish to invite, to ask those perplexing and difficult questions you may have about the Church. These gatherings are for inquirers and are open to people who are not baptized, as well as those who are baptized Christians from Protestant or Evangelical backgrounds, or baptized Catholic but have not received Eucharist and Confirmation.

The first session is on Tuesday, September 8, 2015, 7:00 pm – 9:00 pm in the Adult Ed Room of the school located next to Holy Rosary Church. Please contact Father Joseph Previte or Anne DeMarco if you have questions or would like further information at 216-421-2995.

My Dear Parish Family:

The readings for this week help us to understand that, if indeed we are Disciples of Christ, we ...you and I must take responsibility in not only speaking God's Word, but living the Commandments that are of God, thus giving witness to all who wonder about who we are as Catholics.

The first reading, taken from the Book of Deuteronomy, tells us that it is God's law that we must live by. By living the Commandments that God handed to Moses, we never have to wonder what our Father wants from us. Moses tells the Israelites to observe God's commandments carefully and in so doing they give witness of their wisdom to the nations. In the second reading, James tells us that everything worthwhile is a gift; everything authentic comes from God. James continues to write that we must express what we believe in our hearts, especially to the most vulnerable of our society.

In Mark's Gospel, Jesus expresses his impatience with the Pharisees, calling them hypocrites; quoting Isaiah's prophesy he tells them that they honor God with their lips, but their hearts are far from Him. The laws they practiced were human commandments; they put aside the commandments of God to observe human traditions. The Pharisees sat in judgment of all who failed to follow their minute, insignificant laws, accusing their actions to be sinful. Jesus tells us that those whose hearts are filled with malice and judgment, regardless of what they do on the surface; it is they who are living in sin.

Anyone who visited or volunteered at the Feast of the Assumption just two weeks ago witnessed a massive number of people all of whom were diverse in culture, faith, and ethnicity come together to enjoy a festive time. Not all who came understood the meaning of this great day. Many soon learned, however, that because the Church of Holy Rosary and a statue of a lady adorned with lovely flowers were at the very core of this event, they realized that there was more to this than just food and drink; there was the spiritual component that shined above all else. That spiritual component was enhanced by the many volunteers who spent time talking to visitors, answering questions about our faith, and expressing compassion for those who came to us regardless of their situations. Perhaps they did not realize it in themselves, but these workers were the disciples of Jesus Christ in the eyes of many.

Strangers know when someone is sincere. They know when someone truly believes what they say. Unlike the Pharisees there were no judgments cast on anyone who came to us. The most vulnerable were represented in the Culture of Life stand. Four adults inquired about the RCIA Process (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults). A first year college student came to the religious stand and asked about sin. After an engaging and fruitful conversation, he left knowing that he is a "child" of a merciful and loving God. He left with a medal of Saint Michael and a prayer card that he carefully placed in his wallet for safekeeping. Who we are in titles, economic scale, etc. really isn't that important. But, what is important is who we are as authentic Catholics. Our witness means a lot to many even when we don't realize it. A special thank you to all who gave of themselves to so many, many visitors.

In Christ,
Anne DeMarco, Pastoral Associate
